THIS HORSE KNOWS HIS FIGURES—Serrano, world famous educated horse, shows why he earns that title by selecting lovely Jackie Bryant of Fullerton to pose with him. Serrano, who has been in retirement since 1948, will be one of the many feature attractions at the Hemet Farmers fair and festival Oct. 4-8.

Horse Show, Loud Shirt Contest To Feature Festival at Hemet

Feature attractions ranging from a horse show to a loud shirt contest will draw interest at the Hemet Farmers fair and festival to be held Oct. 4-8 at the permanent fair grounds.

Nearly $60,000 will be offered in premium awards in all fair entries and exhibitors must register their entries by Sept. 20.

Knitting and needlework competition, baking and cooking contests, as well as industrial and commercial exhibits will be a part of the annual event.

The fair's loud shirt contest will be held daily during the five-day run of the festival. Daily winners will be selected and at the end of the fair the champion will be named.

Mrs. Henry C. Potts of Ontario won third place in the contest to select a name for the picture of a small farmer being used on all fair advertisements with the entry "Henry Hayseed." Winning name was "Pitchfork Pete."

Comedian Injured In Desert Mishap Reported Better

Comedian Pat Buttram, screen saddle pal of cowboy star Gene Autry, apparently has passed the crisis and will recover from severe injuries suffered during a movie location accident, doctors said yesterday at Twentynine Palms.

His physician at the Twentynine Palms hospital said Buttram's condition no longer was critical and that he was resting comfortably.

The comedian was wounded in the chest Tuesday when a property cannon exploded in a cabin near Pioneertown, where Autry's company was shooting scenes for a television film.

Although Autry was blown out of the cabin by the blast, he escaped injury. Two other members of the company received slight injuries.

Whitelock on State Committee

Convention Will Be Held in Santa Cruz

Among realtors in this vicinity who will take prominent part in the forty-sixth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, to be held in Santa Cruz Oct. 2-6, is Frank L. Whitelock, who has been appointed a member of a statewide committee, according to an announcement received by E. J. Peterson, president of the San Bernardino Realty board, from F. H. Lahey, president of the statewide organization.

"Two outstandingly important committees for this convention are the nominating committee and the resolutions committee," Mr. Peterson said. "And we are proud to know that a realtor from this area has been chosen for such a prominent part in the annual statewide meeting.

"The nominating committee recommends to the convention officers to serve in 1951, including president, treasurer and state secretary, and 23 regional vice-presidents who supervise activities of local realty boards within their restrictive areas. It also recommends nominees for directors on a widely representative basis for the 130 local real estate boards which comprise the state association.

"The resolutions committee meets regularly throughout the convention and submits recommendations for policies which will be the basis of association activity during the ensuing year, "and therefore wields an important influence in the future policies which will govern realtor organizations next year."

Loan Guaranty Provisions Under Housing Act Outlined by Veterans Administration

Veterans Administration yesterday outlined conditions under which World war II veterans who have used their loan guaranty rights under the GI bill may have with no claim having been made their entitlement to VA-guaranteed loans for homes, farms and business restored under certain special circumstances.

The Housing Act of 1950 authorized VA to restore the amount of loan guaranty entitlement used by a veteran to purchase property which subsequently is taken over for public use, destroyed by fire or other natural hazard, or is "disposed of because of other compelling reasons devoid of fault on the part of the veteran."

A further condition is that VA ify, as evidenced by a doctor's certificate;

2. Employment reasons, such as loss of employment which requires removal to another city or town, or where the veteran is transferred by his employer. In such cases VA said the reason for movement must be one which could not reasonably have been anticipated at the time the property was purchased. Loss of employment, or periods of temporary employment, or periods during which restoration may be sought are subject to an employer's policy which subsequently is taken over are outlined as follows:

1. Reasons of health, such as regular military personnel transferred periodically, do not qualify;

3. Such other reasons as VA may find to be justified in individual cases to be "compelling," where disposal of the property became a practical necessity due to factors over which the veteran had no control.

VA emphasized that entitlement cannot be restored where the veteran's mortgage indebtedness is assumed by a third party, with VA remaining liable on the loan guarantee. Also, restoration will be made but once for any veteran, except in very unusual circumstances.

Prior to the GI loan amendments contained in the Housing Act of 1950, approved April, 20, an eligible veteran was entitled to a VA guarantee of 50 percent of a real estate loan, up to a maximum guarantee of $4,000. For veterans who have used none of their loan guaranty entitlement, the act raised the home loan guarantee to 60 percent of the loan, and a maximum of $7,500.

VA said that where a veteran had used none of his loan guaranty entitlement other than that which is restored under the new provision, he will be considered as having used none of his loan rights and, therefore, eligible for the higher guarantee.

Application for restoration of used entitlement should be made to the loan guaranty officer of the VA regional office which issued the guarantee on the loan. A written statement should be submitted setting forth the reasons for the request; details of the damage, etc.
