UNDoubtedly there is a need for a public health nursing program in the district and the efforts now underway to supply one are being watched with keen interest.

It was a big disappointment when the Red Cross Nursing service was abandoned because some time ago in line with policy of the national headquarters, many engagements were made regarding that action.

Consequently the present efforts to meet the need of a public health nursing program are cause for satisfaction.

The annual report of the Latrobe Hospital made public confidential figures revealing the huge job being accomplished by the local institution.

Patient days for pay patients during 1948 totaled 67,789 and for free patients 25,079.

These items are just incidental to the work at the hospital but they do give some idea of the amount of work being done in every household, they are enlightening with respect to the responsibility involved.

Should the state appropriation for the local hospital have increased to take care of free care and service last year the hospital would have had a total income of $240,000.

It seems only fair that the state appropriation should cover at least the cost of care to free patients.

There is no doubt that the opportunity of a big increase in population in recent years the county and adjacent territory had a major impact in hospital facilities.

There is certainly a need for more of them in the district. Most doctors, surgeons and nurses would also be a help, in some parts of the territory.

Unless new hospitals are established it may reach the point sometime when only the more serious cases can be afforded hospital attention.

FEDERAL aid in education is a subject on which much is being said, pro and con, these days.

Some new ideas on the issue may be brought out in the annual report of the Federal aid in education of the Latrobe City School District on Monday, High School and Junior High School.

The most optimistic early spring outlook for Pennsylvania agriculture was the year 1948 was indicated by the State Department of Agriculture in the first of a series of weekly federal-state bulletins on crop yields during the 1949 growing season.

Some crops were plentiful, grain, winter grains, pasture and hay conditions in general appeared fine in all parts of the state according to the most recent reports.
