"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes." . . . That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money. (This is Message No. 55.)

"But, Daddy... it only cost 24 cents!"

MONEY... how shall our young people learn to handle it wisely? Experience is the best teacher, says this distinguished authority. And the sooner the teaching starts, the better!

by ANGELO PATRI
Noted author on the problems of raising children

Small mistakes now prevent big ones later!

IT'S SHAMEFUL how many grown-ups don't know how to handle money. "I wouldn't lend him a nickel!" we hear. Or "She spends money like water!" Or, "What penny-pinchers they are!" Handling money is a real art. And the time to start learning it is in childhood.

ANGELO PATRI

That's why a father I know (let's call him Mr. Perkins) decided to put his little girl, Peggy, on an allowance. As a start, he gave her a quarter to last the week.

Next day, she came home grandly wearing a battered old hat. She'd bought it at a play auction in a girl friend's attic. Cost: 24 cents!

Her father shook his head. But, being wise, and nerhaps? Of course, the glamour of the hat soon faded, and Peggy was begging Daddy for more money! Just a dime "to go to the store" with the other girls.

Then Mr. Perkins patiently explained why she couldn't have both the hat and the soda. But Peggy had an idea! "Can't I have the dime from next week?"

"Indeed, you can't!" he said firmly. "You'd be spending money you haven't got. And that is just what gets people into trouble!"

Such experience is the way a boy or girl learns to spend wisely. An allowance also helps them learn to save . . . by giving up candy bars this week, the boy learns he can buy that big yellow ball next week!

Another plan is to reward your child with a bonus every three months, if he has spent his money sensibly. Or, to encourage him to save in the "big bank," offer to double anything he deposits.

Never think of his allowance as pay for doing regular work around the house. That's his duty as one of the family. But if certain jobs are usually done outside—like washing the car, or shining Dad's shoes—let him earn this money, if he wants to. Earning is part of living.

Let your children learn about money through actual experience, and you'll worry much less about rash spending when they're on their own!

Give them a REGULAR AMOUNT! The allowance may be small. But it should be a definite amount, at a definite time.

Let them spend it THEMSELVES! Never interfere! If your child makes his mistakes when he's young, he'll make fewer when he's older.

Never DISCIPLINE with money! Don't withhold the allowance as a punishment. This puts a false money price on duty.

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

• Providing for children's allowances is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The best moments for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc.

So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusement, and the like.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company: INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 488 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

PIONEERTOWN—A typical Sunday crowd. The theme here, as can be seen, is strictly horsemanship.

Desert Real Estate Is Booming

VICTORVILLE, Cal. March 30 surveying roads and drawing up plans for sewer systems, Victorville, on the Mojave desert that's gold all right, but a different sort than the old-time prospectors, were looking for.

The era of the burro, the grubhoe, and the diamond drill is fast gone, superseded now by a wave of smooth-talking men in shiny cars, pitching camp in flamboyant real estate offices with billboards to the right and billboards to the left.

The land of the cactus and the yucca is for sale—in a big way.

A swarm of newcomers to these parts, mostly promoters from Hollywood, are beating the sage to it, as they say hereabouts, by subdividing.

Meanwhile, more businesses are entering the picture, betting their pennies on some of the subdivisions—new acreage now being opened up for sale at the rate of 10 sales an Wonder Palms, Palm Village, Thunderbird Ranch, and the Jacinto Estates.

The first great trek of vacationers into the desert began 10 years ago, interrupted during the war period. An early development was the town of Twenty-Nine Palms.

Now a new subdivision, Pioneertown, is going up about half way between Palm Springs and Twenty-Nine Palms, at a 4,000-foot elevation on the rim of the Mojave. The theme here is pure old-time ranchship. The tract is being promoted in the movers in heavy movie singers. "The Sons of the Pioneers" are the latest to record a song about the place.

Desert subdivisions are available for every type of purse and budget, from the rich night club operator who wants the first in the sportsman and the retired couple.
